Welcome to today's training event being conducted by the Institute for Childhood Preparedness to child care providers with Children's Discovery Center facilities. I applaud the dedication and commitment of the professionals from Children's Discovery Center who are taking steps to prevent and avoid tragedies.

The course, which focuses on active shooter preparedness, was created to provide evidence-based tools and techniques from experts to make day care facilities more secure and increase workers' overall level of preparedness.

We have an obligation to do everything we can every single day to try and protect our kids. To everyone attending the conference, thank you for your continued dedication to keeping children safe.

Very respectfully yours,
